

We are here for you.

For more than 40 years, Preferred Family Healthcare has been caring for our communities and the people who live in them. With the outbreak of COVID-19, we recognize the need to care for our people is even greater.

Dealing with this outbreak is not easy for any of us, but we want you to know we are here for those who are struggling with mental health issues, experiencing fear and anxiety, or working to overcome a battle with drug and substance use.

Our offices remain open and we are taking necessary steps to ensure our clients, employees and the community are as safe as possible during this time.

We are following CDC guidance at all of our sites regarding sanitation and social distancing. In addition, we are transitioning many of our services to video and phone telehealth. Telehealth provides a simple and secure platform for clients to speak to our providers from their phone, tablet or computer.

Our clients have been a part of our PFH Family for years, and we never want to turn away our most vulnerable population in this time of crisis and intensified need.

Please call us. We are only a phone call (or virtual visit) away.

For more information, contact a clinic near you. For a list of clinics, visit www.pfh.org/locations